Timeless Treasures

Some Things are Never Forgotten

Many things are treasured throughout the years. Most things that we always tend to remember are things that happen in school. For example in school students usually receive their first car and meet their first real love. Another memorable moment is graduation.

Almost all students have something special to them that they treasure. Maria Galarza a junior said, "My sweet sixteen is my timeless treasure because that's the most celebrated birthday for girls."

Chris Johnston, Shelley Hardison, and Jenny Hibbard still sport the same style letterman jackets as the class of '68. Photo by Jay Love-lady.

Lashunda Young said, "Just getting my driver's license is something I will never forget because it's more responsibility put on me."

Annette Williams, a new student this year, said, "Coming to Virginia and starting in this new school has really been interesting, and surely something I will not forget."

These times, like all times spent at HHS, are important parts of our lives. Ones that we always will treasure.

A Collection of Memories

Students Tell What They Save

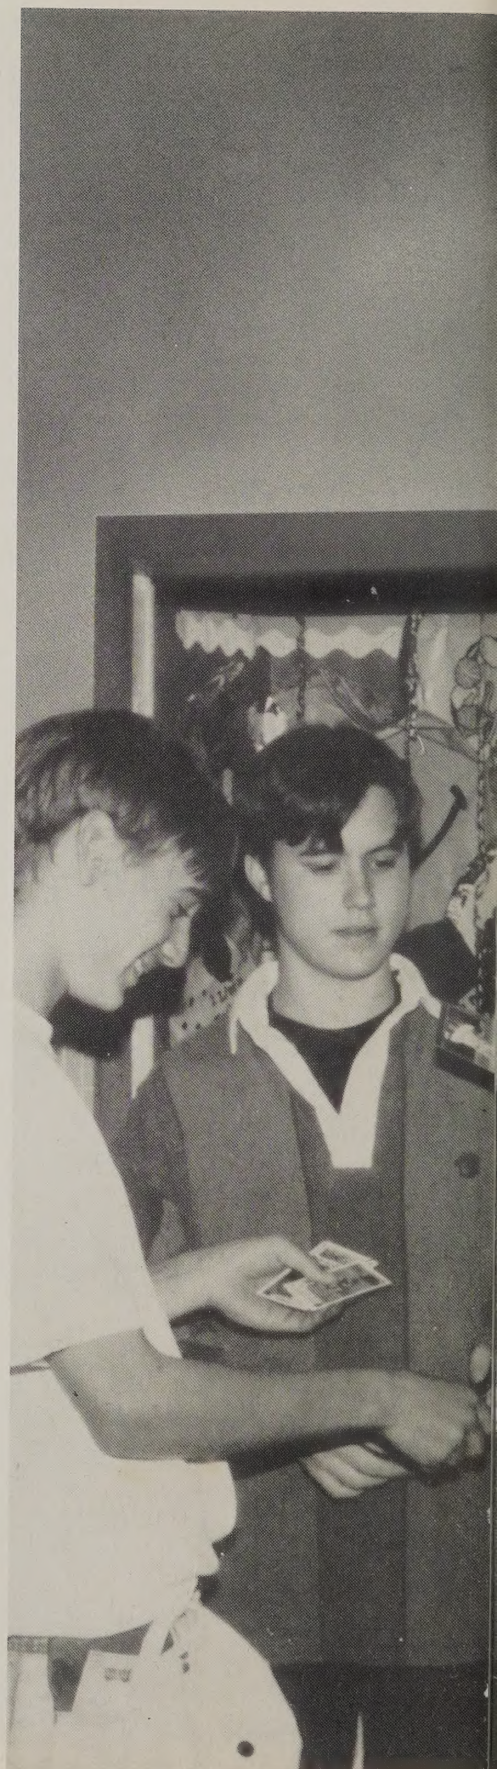

Everyone has saved some kind of memorabilia from their childhood whether it is the outfit they first wore home from the hospital or the first tooth that they lost. So the yearbook took a journey through your junk drawers and this is what we found. George Stokes said, "I have saved every letter from my girlfriend since seventh grade so I would be able to show them to my children." We also found that many people have saved all of their baby memorabilia whether it is a first bottle or an I.D. they were given in the hospital after being born. Sophomore Lisa Fuzy said that she has saved her first book, which is a book of nursery rhymes. Although everyone does not treasure something from their childhood many students have something special that they received recently. Jennifer Wasyk commented, "I treasure the hope chest that I received for my sixteenth birthday. Hopefully, when I become a parent I will be able to show my children my high school memories." Some things are important because of the sentimental value that they have. Junior Cathy Shively revealed that she has a sweet sixteen charm passed down from three generations. As you can see, many students treasure things from the past to the present.

We never totally grow up as proved to us by Shannon Hargrave and Shelley Grise as they admit that Mickey Mouse is their hero.

Everyone has something special that they keep over the years. Here are a few things that Hopewell High School students have saved:

- baby blanket
- stuffed animals
- porcelain dolls
- baseball cards
- autographed baseballs
- letters from a boyfriend/girlfriend
- hats
- baby shoes
- teeth
- flag from a grandfather's funeral
- two headed Indian coin
- dried flowers from a boyfriend
- unicorns
- baby bracelet
- charm bracelet
- grandmother's wedding band and engagement ring

Juniors have a night of elegance.

Each year the junior class holds the Miss HHS pageant as a fundraiser for the prom. It is a traditional timeless treasure for the girls who participate. This past year the top ten contestants were Tamela Bell, Joy Erb, Doris Flowers, Necole Green, Amy Higginbotham, Laura Kazebeer, Tabitha Morton, Stefanie Riddle, Jackie Sexton, and Tina Shepard. They were anxious and breathless before hearing the new Miss HHS announced — Miss Tamela Bell. First runner up was Laura Kazebeer, who admits that she was a little nervous. Second runner up was Joy Erb.

Tamela Bell stated that it felt great to be crowned Miss Hope-well High School. With tears in her eyes and joy in her voice, she commented, "It's fun knowing that you have achieved something that you would have never dreamed. It's scary sometimes, but I'm going to enjoy and fulfill the duty of Miss HHS."

Going up against your classmates that you have befriended for years can be difficult. According to Tabitha Morton, one of the top ten contestants, it was difficult. She replied, "Every one of us wanted to win, but we were also praying for each other. The outcome was good because no one was jealous."

Competing against close companions may be hard. But in the end it could bring old friends closer as it did here during the pageant in March. "It brought me a little closer to my acquaintances," said Megan Foxworth.

High school is a time that can't be forgotten. This special high school moment could never be forgotten by the competitors in the Miss HHS pageant. For new memories were made with old friends on this special day.

4. Nine out of twelve people said parents took pictures of them.

Celebrating the junior-senior prom as the year comes to an end.

Filled with nervousness and high expectations for the night of Saturday, May 30, many hours were spent getting ready to attend the prom. Amanda Cockerill said that she had appointments for a haircut, facial, and make-up and then an hour was spent getting dressed. From a male's stance, Jimmy Kilgore commented he only spent fifteen minutes getting ready. Many were photographed and video taped by parents and relatives as they got ready to leave in rented limousines or a newly washed car. Tina Roark and her boyfriend, Jason Vick, of course could not be provided with the standard complimentary champagne in their limo. Instead, the driver provided them with Pepsi in long stem crystal glasses.

The junior-senior prom of nineteen hundred ninety-two opened with a night of excitement for everyone who attended. "Forever Young" hit the hearts of some, realizing their departure from Hopewell High School was near and they were becoming adults about to face the "real world."

Many people attended the After-Prom at the high school where the "Cruise Without Booze" theme was illustrated. There was a variety of things to choose from to do, such as dance, watch movies, play games, enter drawings, and just socialize with friends.

A Timeless Graduation

Finally It's Time

Anticipation and spirits were high as the class of 1992 entered Merner Field on June 12 to receive their high school diplomas and complete their long journey through twelve years of school.

The graduation ceremonies opened with Rev. Mr. James E. White of First Baptist Church. Miss Keith then addressed the graduates and introduced the other speakers. Some of which were Dr. Charles C. Todd, superintendent; Amy Butterworth, senior class president; Ashley Havard, Salutatorian; and Andy High, Valedictorian of the class. In his speech,

Andy High encouraged the graduates by saying, "Education is the foundation of life ... because of education there are increased opportunities."

Diplomas were then awarded to the 171 students. Afterwards, everyone attending sang the alma mater. A huge scream erupted from the sea of gold and blue dressed graduates as they finally ended their high school years and started their adult lives. While leaving, the class motto rung in some heads, "The Future is an Open Door For Those Who Hold the Key."

Sign of the Times

25 Years of Tradition and Change

Mrs. Slagle explains the high school is the same as it was 25 years ago because, "Lunch is the best part of the day. Freshmen — here at last. Sophomores — Dr. Ed. at last. Juniors — no more PE at last. Seniors — we're out of here — at last."

Mr. Hayes, class of '74, says that, "We have made major improvements in the area of race relations," since he was in school.

The doors of the current high school building opened in September of 1967 to anxious students moving from the old Mallonee building to the current high school building. Mr. Hoover, class of 1968, was a senior then. He recalls that one of his special memories from high school was moving to the 'new' school. Since that time, however, our academics, student life, and extracurricular programs have undergone great change as well as set traditions that we still follow.

One of the most significant changes has been changing from a six to seven period day. In 1968 most students only took five subjects and had fewer courses to choose from. Since that time both advanced and AP courses have been added to the curriculum. "A wider variety of classes are now being offered" said Mr. Fitch, class of 1986. Recently computer science, Latin V, economics, statistics, technical math, and music/art appreciation have been added. Even the way we learn has changed in the past 25 years. Computers, TV's, and VCR's are now used in many classes as learning tools. In 1990 Channel One, a fifteen minute news program, became part of everyday school life.

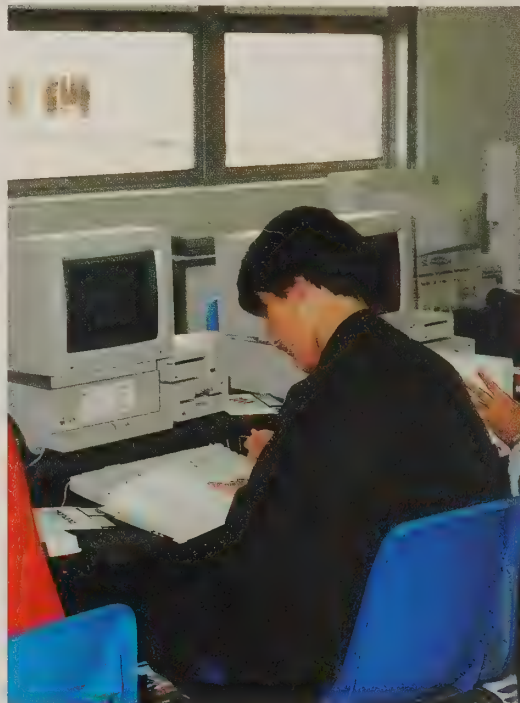

Student life has also changed a great deal. According to Mrs. Slagle, class of 1964, "society's problems were not the same 25 years ago as they are today." Since students are exposed to harsher realities, rules have been added dealing with drugs, weapons, attendance, and tardies. Mrs. Stallings, class of 1968, doesn't recall a tardy policy during her school days. Furthermore, this year a stricter cheating policy was implemented to ensure students do their own work. An honor council dealt with cheating in 1968. Presently, there are groups aimed at drug and alcohol awareness. These new policies reflect the way the world has changed in 25 years. Students should consider themselves lucky, however, because more teenagers of the 90's have their own automobiles.

1968 was a year of school spirit and sports participation. That year the basketball team won district and regional competitions and went to the state AAA tournament at UVA. Mr. Hoover said that there was "standing room only" in the gym that year as the spectators sang songs with the band and cheered with the cheerleaders. After both football and basketball games, soc hops were held in the gym. More students participated in athletics then because fewer jobs were available to students and there were not malls or movies to go to. During the past 25 years sports training has changed. Currently weight training during off season and sports camps are more common. Plus, soccer has been added to the many traditional sports, and last year a girl's team was initiated.

It is important to note that life does change with each passing year. Yet, there are universals about student life. We still believe in the importance of a solid education, look up to our dedicated teachers, and respect the seal of Hopewell in the front hall.

Hyped up Homecoming!!!

Excitement heightened during game and dance.

The Homecoming pep rally and parade was so hype! But first, spirit week. On Monday, the students did not have school. Hat day was Tuesday. Camera day was Wednesday. Thursday was costume day, and Friday of course was blue and gold day. Then Friday afternoon, the students and faculty had a pep rally. They announced senior superlatives, different sports, homecoming lineup, spirit stick, and the football players.

That night, beginning at six o'clock, the band members marched down the road with all the different floats following. As they turned onto the football field, they displayed their spirit for the judges. The Junior class float won overall, and the Varsity Cheerleader's float won for being most creative. It was such a fun day with many festivities, but everybody could not wait for the game to begin! After the game there was a little something for all the people to enjoy!

Glenn Hayes and Crystal Bell, the king and queen, smiled for all the cameras.

It rained. The game began, and it rained harder. Then at halftime it was still raining. For some reason it would not stop raining! They announced the king and queen. The crowd and the cheerleaders began to leave, but the game continued in the rain.

Ms. Keith, the principal, treated all the students to a dance. It was free for all students and visitors only had to pay two dollars. Many students came out even though they did not know it was going to be free. At first some of the guys acted a little shy, as if they didn't want to be seen alive dancing, until the girls began to dance by themselves or in groups. After about an hour of spectating, the boys finally got a little kick. Then all the people were dancing merrily together! The football players came in and announced that they had lost, but that didn't stop anyone! The night went on ...

The Need to Succeed

"I will study and get ready, and perhaps my chance will come." Following these words of Abraham Lincoln, students prepare themselves for their future life during their high school years. Academic classes prepare students for college. Vocational and business classes give students the skills they need to succeed in the work force. When students leave school, they will take their knowledge and skills with them. They will rely on this preparation in their jobs and careers.

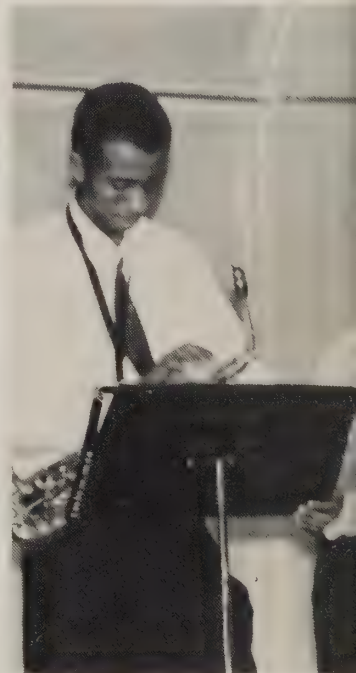

The classes represented in the following academic section are divided into groups that show possible careers for students of our school. Included are, not only, the academic and vocational classes but also art, drama, and music classes that are an important part of any well-rounded curriculum. Thus, the following pages are a Kaleidoscope of student work in our school.

The Politician

For most politicians their interest in politics began in their high school years. The interest sparked from government, U.S. history, business law, economics, public speaking, sociology, world history, world studies, and geography classes and continued to thrive in college. The Honorable Riley Ingram, Republican delegate and an alumni of the class of 1960, commented, "Government and U.S. history were my favorite classes. It's a good start for future politicians."

Freshmen begin their social studies careers with geography. Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Bouck, Ms. Carter, Mr. Hoover, and Mrs. Noble encourage them to study other parts of the world. When asked why a politician would need geography Mrs. Noble said, "Politicians need to be familiar with the diversity of the geographic regions within our country. This will assure their ability to discuss the diverse ecological issues that often arise."

In the sophomore year, options open for those students interested in politics. World history, taught by Mr. Morefield, is an elective that teaches events that have taken place in the community and hundreds of miles away. Sophomores interested in politics may take sociology and business law. These classes are also available to juniors and seniors but sophomores make up the majority of the class. Sociology is taught by Mr. Broner and Ms. Carter. Ms. Carter believes sociology could help a future politician. "Politicians need to know the make up of society in order to effectively understand and relate to the persons they represent," said Ms. Carter.

In their junior year students must attend U.S. history class. This is a required class taught by Ms. Stutzman, Mr. Fitch, Ms. Carter, Miss Longerbeam, and Mr. Morefield. Economics, taught by Mr. Fitch, is an elective for juniors and seniors. It could be very rewarding to a future politician, especially if the course is combined with Ms. Stutzman, Mr. Broner, Mr. Hoover, and Mr. Whipp's government class. A great politician enjoys government thoroughly. Mr. Robert Butler, Republican Party Activist, believes "Students should take their classwork very seriously, study hard and try to understand the major issues which will impact their lives in the years ahead. Students should be encouraged to ask questions and register to vote when they become adults. The future of our country rests with the students of today and they must be willing to meet the challenge and assume their responsibilities as citizens." The next President of the U.S. could be the person always up front in government class.

Repair Technician

How would you like to earn between $12,000 to $200,000 a year? If you became a repair technician, you could. In order to do that you would have to go to a four year college or apprenticeship school. If you take one of the many classes offered here, though, you'll have a head start. The choices range from auto body and electricity, to air conditioning and machine shop, and everything in between. Kevin McBride thinks taking one of these courses will help you in college, "The college looks at your school education and knows that you knew something about that type of work." Tim Story agrees adding, "Taking machine shop in high school will help you learn more for that career than if you didn't take it."

So, if you are interested in any of these things, taking the classes offered here may help in a choice as a repair technician.

Business Management

In the field of business management, it is essential to have knowledge in such subjects as marketing, accounting, computer, communications skills, food and clothing management, catering, and even child care. Business management requires marketing because of the many skills learned, like communications, math, leadership, and customer relations. Kim Dowdy and Burgina Thomas agree, "Marketing helps you become a better leader." Accounting is important also. It teaches the proper way to manage the budget and keep records of all transactions, while emphasizing the basics of math. In computer, the basic computer skills are taught. This is very important this day and age. Communication skills are also essential in the business world. A person needs to know the proper way to make a presentation in front of a group of people without choking-up. Food and clothing management offers someone experience in the food and clothing field. Lakeesha Hayes feels "clothing management teaches a person how to make clothes, and when you go into a clothing business you would already have experience." "Catering offers experience or a taste of real life. It will also help solve problems that might come up on the job," said Anaul Jones. Typress Harris agrees, "It gives you a good learning experience in food business." Child care is required for anyone interested in a career taking care of children. Dawn Baumgartner stated, "Child care is a very interesting class to take. It will help you understand more about small children. I would advise anybody who had interest in children to take it." To be successful in the field of business management persons should know as much as they possibly can before entering the field. These classes could help.

Communications Specialist

Our school offers many business classes needed to become an administrative assistant. Certain secretarial qualifications are needed in order to pursue this career. Typing is absolutely required as well as English. Other classes offered are office systems, business computer applications, and data processing. Heather Conley believes "these classes help in skills of typing and word perfect." According to Cathy Shively, "English is essential when answering the phone." After all, standard English is needed for proper communication. Sitting in an office, answering phones, and typing may not seem very interesting or complicated, but it takes more skills than you think. Sarah Phipps remarked, "Typing would help you get an office job easily because you would be more qualified."

Computers populate almost every business field and are a definite part of everyone's future. Kelly Ashbrook said, "Office systems teaches you about computers and how they work." Anyone going into the business field needs to have computer knowledge because most jobs in the want ads require Word Perfect and Lotus experience. When filling out an application for a secretarial job, Frances Boller added, "Typing would be helpful in making an impressive resume."

General Practitioner

A doctor is a very prestigious job to have. Doctors spend as much as eight years and up in college before they can actually get out into the world to start their career. There are many classes that can be taken in high school to help pursue your goal in becoming a doctor. April Stump believes that Latin I aids in a doctors career greatly because "Latin is the basis of words that are used in the medical field." Sciences play a big part in the medical profession. Melissa Rice thinks, "Biology I teaches you about the human body and what takes place in the reproductive system of a human." Biology I student David Franklin added, "You get a chance to dissect different organisms and learn about the organs of the body." Another science class that potential doctors should take is chemistry. "I think that Chemistry I can help a future doctor through medicine because you need to know about chemicals and formulas to help with sicknesses," said Meredith Rackley. One other subject you take in high school that can also help you in this profession is math classes. Angela Hodge stated, "Math can help because you have to know how much medicine to give patients and the strengths of the medicine in milligrams that you prescribe." Health Assistant I and II, technical drawing, and psychology help, too. Being a doctor gives you a chance to work with the people and reminds you everyday that there is always a chance that you will be able to save someone's life. One other great thing about being a doctor is the salary. A doctor can earn anywhere from $25,000 starting out to a peak of $270,000. Becoming a doctor will pay off in the end, as you can see, financially and humanely.

In May, the annual awards assembly was held. It captured and held the hearts and minds of the attendants at the assembly. For some, just having their names called was the thrill of the day! To be able to run up on stage and receive an award in front of the entire student body was an honor. Heather Wirth, recipient of the HOSA award, commented, "It gives you a good feeling." Catina Roark received the Governor's School Award for attending Governor's School at the University of Richmond during the summer. She said, "It's more than getting the award, it's going. You have experiences you don't get in everyday life. You can be yourself without being looked down on for who you are."

At the end of the assembly, the seniors were surprised with a treat of four young men: Keith Jones, Chris Speight, Terrence Giles and Jimmy Walker. The four sang the senior class's theme song "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday" by Boyz II Men. It seems that the seniors were not the only ones waiting for a special treat, underclassman Brantlee Jennings stated, "I was waiting for the singing!" Its message sent people home with tears in their eyes, good vibes, and high spirits.

All in all, the assembly was enjoyed by everyone in some form of manner. A few people were disappointed that they did not receive an award, but made it their business to see to it that the next school year they would set high standards to achieve.

Students enjoy Fun Day

Towards the end of the year spring fever becomes rampant. Everyone is festive. Sensing student hyperactivity, Ms. Keith assigns the students one certain day when they have all three lunch periods to socialize. She calls it Fun Day. She says the purpose of Fun Day is to "reward students for achievement throughout the year and provide them with a well deserved break after several days of (standardized) testing."

This past Fun Day D.J. Vance Johnson was present to play the students' favorite tunes. There were also games and snack stands. Some students took the extra time for studying, but most relaxed and enjoyed being with their friends.

Ricky Irby looked back on Fun Day and said, "It was great to have a break like that in the middle of the day. We need to have fun day every day."

Carolyn Bowman's opinion of Fun Day was "after all year of working hard, we deserve a day like this at the end of the year."

In high school the end of the year can be the best part of the year. It is when freshmen become sophomores, sophomores become juniors, and juniors become seniors. With all the frustrations that go along with advancement, sometimes we all need a Fun Day to celebrate all we have learned.

Amy Horne and Ciara Kauli relax.

Coach Johnson wowed the crowd.

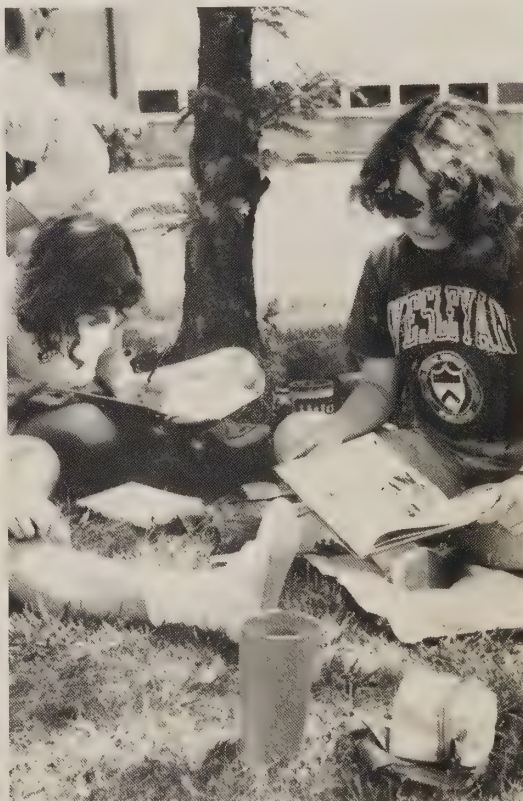

Frozen fruit bars were sold by Mrs. Harkrader, Amber Breeden, and Mary Buyalos.

Fun Day gave friends Jennifer McFain, Nicole Harper, Chrystal Bell, Gloria Ramos, Jenny Coleman, Amy Powroznik, Sae Cho, Stefanie Riddle, and Angela Miller time to enjoy being together.

Christina Manieri and Ann Marie Nye take a break during fun day to sign yearbooks.

Tina Cisero and friends enjoy the music.

Teachers' Impact

During the four years spent at Hopewell High School many of the seniors have grown fond of their teachers. Now the year is coming to an end and the Class of 1993 has to say good-bye to those favorite teachers. Many of the teachers have watched the senior class mature from their freshman year up until their graduating year. Robert Collins is grateful to Mrs. Harkrader when he says, "She's like a mother to me and helps me with things that are hard to understand." Tonda Stephens appreciates Mrs. Bridge when saying, "She truly cares about her students and if you are ever down she could always cheer you up with her crazy antics." Seniors even love their government teachers no matter how hard the course. "Mr. Whipp makes you visualize everything that he talks about. He doesn't lecture and speak as if we were on a lower level, he speaks to us on the same level, like friends," replies Mike Rivera. Kathy Ross makes her comment about Mr. Broner, "He is my basketball coach and teacher and he is real easy to talk to." Teachers have a great impact on many students here at Hopewell High School as you can tell from the comments made by some of the seniors. The seniors are very grateful to the teachers for all of their help.

The Privileged Ones

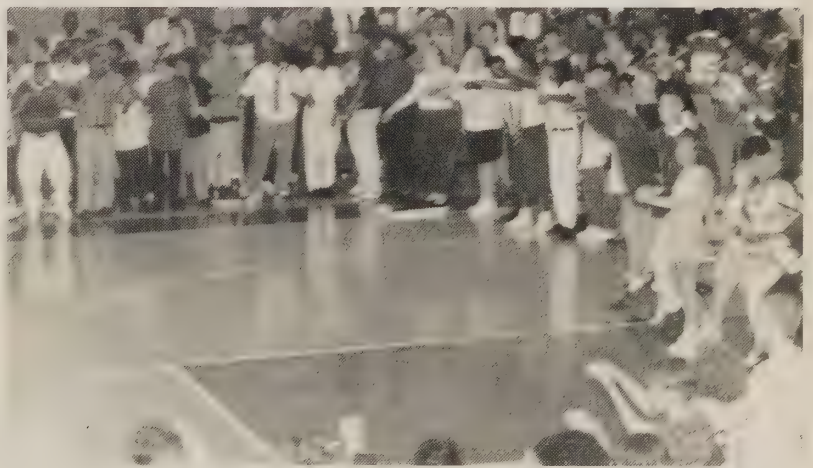

A senior is defined in the Webster dictionary as "a student in the year preceding graduation from a secondary school." But being a senior means more than completing thirteen years of education in the Hopewell Public Schools. Being a senior also means that in June you face adulthood and become free to make a life for yourself. However, seriousness aside, being a senior equals fun! It is your time to rule the school and have a grasp of that timeless tradition of ... SENIOR PRIVILEGES!

Senior privileges are honored and greatly respected by all underclassmen and teachers. These special rules include leaving for lunch early, marching into assemblies, to the sacred spirit week.

The Class of 1993 has reveled in their opportunity to have senior privileges. George Cartin likes the fact he no longer has to wait in a lunch line. "Going outside for lunch." was Joe Castles' favorite Senior privilege. Amanda Sprague sums it up by saying "we have worked hard for all these years and now we get a break. It's about time!!" In conclusion Lawrence Edmonds looks to the future by wanting a Senior Party at the end of the year. Who knows what kind of Senior privileges will be added in the future to our already standing traditions.

A Touch of Class

The Junior Class of 1994 got off to a good start this year, with the help of the officers. Jimmy Riddle; treasurer, Rebecca Slagle; president, Tyler Mahaney; secretary, Mrs. Smith-Hipps; sponsor, and Chantel Walker; vice president. The first fund-raiser held was selling candy. The second one was selling Christmas cards. The money brought in from both of the fund-raisers is going to be used for the Miss Hopewell High School pageant which will be held March 25, 1993 and for the Senior Prom. The ring ceremony held on October 9, 1992 was a big moment for the junior class. Everyone was very excited to receive their rings and have people turn them 94 times.

A Symbol of Pride

The sophomores were excited last year when it came time to order their high school class rings. For many it was the time to make a lot of decisions. Sophomores had to decide what type of ring they wanted to get, what to get on the sides, and what stone to get. They were even more excited when they became juniors and the date of the ring ceremony was announced. The date was set for October 9, 1992, in the library at 3:15 p.m. Parents, students, and faculty were invited to attend. Juniors received their rings at this time. Ms. Keith started the ring ceremony by saying how proud she is of the class of 1994, and how she wants us to continue to try hard in everything that we do. Then Vice-President Chantel Walker began to call the juniors in alphabetical order while Class President Rebecca Slagle placed rings on their hands. After all of the juniors had received their rings, a reception followed in the conference room, and the ring turning tradition began. Juniors went around asking classmates as well as teachers to turn their rings towards their pinkies. It is tradition to get someone to turn your ring 94 times. After your ring has been turned 93 times to your pinky, you will get someone special to turn your ring the other way to look at it.

Helping Others

Every day, somebody in this area needs blood and may die without it. There is one way in which we can help these people, simply by donating blood. One person, one unit of blood, can help save six people. On October 28 HOSA and the Red Cross held a blood drive. There were 113 participants, 14 faculty members and 11 Health Assistant I volunteers. Shawn Freeman learned something valuable from the experience, "I've learned that there are a lot of generous people willing to give their blood to help others."

Ninety-one units of blood were donated, beating our goal of 65 units. All 91 units will stay in Virginia hospitals.

Now all this may seem easy, and actually it is. You have to be 17 years of age or older, be willing to miss a little class work, and handle the slight prick of a needle. Does it really hurt? "No," responded Earl Burgess, "It felt like a bee sting." Even though there is a little pinch, there are still greater rewards. "It makes me feel happy to give my blood to help someone else," Terill Grier said. Giving blood is a good way to help others. It does not cost you anything, it takes little time or effort, and, just think, one day it may save your own life.

Putting In Extra Hours

It is a Tuesday evening, and in one classroom students are sitting in desks taking a test. Why are they still at school? They are taking a practice test as part of the SAT review class to help them improve their SAT score. The class meets for seven weeks, two nights a week with one of the nights focusing on the math section and the other on the verbal section of the SAT. The class is offered in the fall to prepare students for the November test and again in the spring before the May SAT. The first class was taught in the fall of 1989 because "I saw a need to help students achieve a minimum score to get into college. I also wanted to provide students with a convenient and low cost alternative to more expensive courses," said Mr. Hayes, who teaches the verbal part of the class.

The SAT class gives students practice taking the SAT before the actual test date and gives them helpful test-taking strategies. Lucas Indelicato learned that it helps to read the questions before reading the passage in the reading comprehension section. A focus of the verbal section is learning vocabulary words that appear frequently on the SAT. Lil Allen said that this part of the class has helped her the most. The math part of the class, taught by Mr. Jones, reviews geometry and algebra skills by doing practice problems. Other hints include deciding what questions to leave blank and even what to do on the morning of the test. During the class, students keep a record of their practice scores. Nidra Taylor noticed that her score has gone up, as have those of several other students that have taken the class. The SAT class helps students by giving them confidence, doing practice questions, and teaching them strategies.

DID YOU KNOW?

There are about 14,000 books in our library, and 90 card catalog drawers that hold their information.

There are 1,625 lockers in the school.

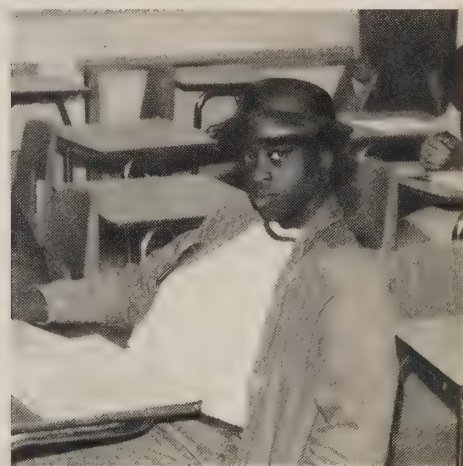

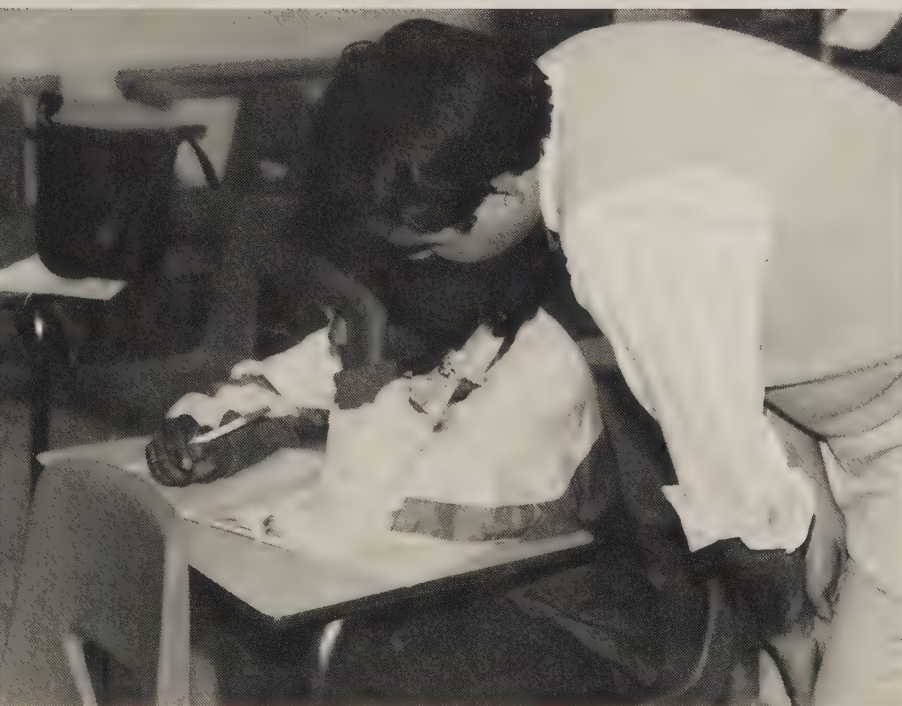

The school has 1,101 students.

There are 130 people employed by the school.

The auditorium has 984 brand new seats.

Students and teachers use about 5,500 books; this is not counting the new textbooks.

The faculty parking lot has over 125 parking places.

RÉSUMÉS GALORE

"Speaking about Careers . . ."

Careers, careers, and more careers were what many students encountered on November 18, 1992. Everyone from realtors to designing experts stood before classes to tell students about their careers, hoping to capture their interests. "The speakers helped me in making decisions on what I would like to do in the future," said Anita Hunter. "Career Day had a great amount of variety," added Kathy Ross. "I had someone with a different career in every class. It was very informative."

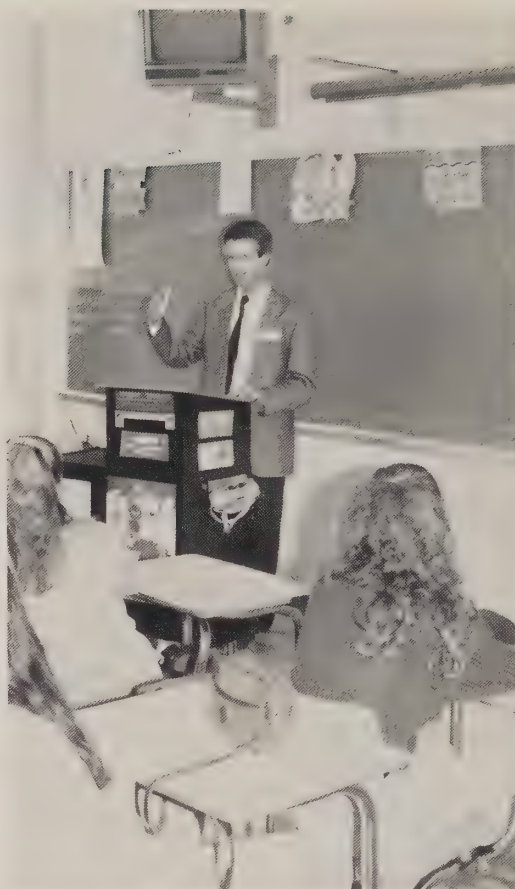

Career Day is held every year to give insight to students about many career choices. Many speakers take a day out of their busy schedules to discuss their education and careers with the students throughout the day. This year, the students rated Career Day "excellent" to "good" according to the guidance department's survey. The Career Day speakers left, hopeful that their speeches had some effect on at least a few students and that their thoughts influenced students to pursue a career of their interest.

One speaker, Angel Conway, had a special effect on students. One student, Janiese Hopkins, had this to say, "Ms. Conway did not spend the time telling us about her life. She was original. She told us that one person could not be everything, every person has their own special qualities to display."

The day gave students the choice to learn more about the careers of today and their futures in the world of tomorrow.

Looking For A College?

The choice is yours

College Day is an annual event in which representatives come from colleges and military schools.

Many students like the idea of College Day. They believe that in a choice of over 73 colleges, they could find at least one that they liked. Dakita Baliey commented, "College Day was a great day to find out about various colleges. By getting brochures, you can limit your choices to the colleges you may most likely be accepted to."

Some students believe college day can be improved. "They should have had freshman representatives to tell us what their first year was like and give us tips on that," said Tanika Pettaway.

Some students believe that College Day is just a lucky hour to get out of class, but others wanted to get the college information. Nevertheless, students enjoyed the opportunity to meet representatives to discuss programs at their schools.

Jason Edwards, Jon Maucher, and Robbie Hare are all smiles as they participate in the democratic process on November third by passing out literature for their candidate.

It's Your Vote Clinton Elected President

This year was an election year. With three candidates up for office, this was an election to remember! On October 19th and 20th Channel One sponsored "Election — The Student Vote." This was the largest national student election ever. The main purpose of this election was to heighten students' awareness of the political process. Everyone voted during second period. All the tabulations were telephoned in to Channel One. Then, Channel One provided extensive coverage of the candidates and the issues before the election.

On October 21 Channel One presented an election special which included coverage and analysis and special guests. The school results were, George Bush 329 votes, Bill Clinton 488 votes, and Ross Perot 245 votes. When asked about the election Ric Procter said, "Clinton did a good job of swallowing the votes, poor Perot and Bush." On a national level Bush received 914,769 votes or 27%, Clinton received 1,490,146 votes or 43%, and Perot received 825,971 votes or 24%. Amanda Sprague, a Bush supporter, said, "I was surprised to see how much Clinton won by in the Channel One election." In the Channel One, out of 50 states and the District of Columbia Clinton won 42 states and D.C., Bush won 2 states, and Perot won 6 states. When it came to electoral votes, Clinton received 504 votes, Bush 8 votes, and Perot 26 votes. Vickie Shreves said, "I couldn't believe Clinton won by so many votes. I just knew Ross Perot would come back. But, oh well!" It was estimated that about 3.43 million students voted in the election.

On November 3rd the real Presidential election occurred. Just like the Channel One election, Clinton was voted President.

Adventures in Biology Canoeing in the Wild

Guide Chris Cusack shows Jon Osmundson and Wendy Tomlinson how to chemically test the water and enjoy science.

What is a field trip? A field trip is a class journey to a place where something can be learned. It's also a break from school for students to have fun and bond among themselves.

This year the advanced biology class journeyed to Presquile Island Wildlife Refuge on September 30, 1992. Mrs. Campfield's advanced class, Ms. Keith, Mr. Skalsky, and our visiting Japanese teacher, Mr. Masarobu Nishikaku, went to the wildlife refuge to learn about the wetlands and human impact on the Chesapeake Bay. "The most enjoyable thing about the trip was canoeing and having fun," said Ricky Irby. But in the process of having fun, the students learned about recycling and did chemical tests of the water. According to Ms. Keith, they learned about sinking, "Our guide was speaking to the group and I became aware that everyone was sinking. We were knee-deep in mud." When students returned they had sopping, muddy clothes and shoes, and smiles on their faces. "The trip was great! But I don't think my shoes are going to make it!" Amy Harkrader said holding up a ruined pair of muddy sneakers. But that's what you get for canoeing in the wild.

Physical Education

Physical Education class is required for the freshman and sophomore grade levels. The class involves exercises, organized games, and physical fitness test. The exercises include push-ups, jumping jacks, toe touches, and running laps. The athletics happen after the exercises. They include basketball, football, rounders, volleyball and soccer. All the gym teachers pick their major sports for their class to participate in. Additionally, the physical fitness test is required for all students in the ninth and tenth grades. These tests are used to judge strength, flexibility and endurance. The students are scored nationally, and if they place high enough, the student receives awards for his or her physical fitness.

James Sparks leans on the podium to give his speech for SCA president.

Give Me a VP!

Gimme a J! Gimme an N! Gimme an R! Gimme a P! What's that spell? Nothing. Well, Gimme a W! Gimme an H! Gimme an A! Gimme a T! What's that spell? What. I'll tell you what. They call me Mark Klingman, but you can call me Nawanda. Ah, that's better. Now, I also want you to WAKE UP! and listen to me. There are two kinds of people in this world: those who bungee-jump and those who sit and watch Hee-Haw. Now, I don't know about the rest of you, but I say give me bungees or give me the Home Shopping Network! Because you have to have one thing to bungee-jump (besides a will to die), you have to want to be different. But believe it or not, Hopewell is not different. Most of you are the same. And there are too many people who are the same as this guy. The guy who says, "Man I don't care about no school, it's stupid, anyway I'm gonna be a truck driver when I grow up . . . what are you looking at?" You see? That guy was not different. That guy was asleep. That's why I need you to wake up. Maybe you're saying to yourselves, "Who is this white person, and why is he telling me what to do? And why is he carrying a stuffed animal?" Well, I'm just a lowly sophomore, but I've been around long enough to know that out of all the things you need to succeed it can all be summed up in one word; frog. No, wait. It's work. You need work to succeed. And I can tell you, for the last nine months I have done nothing but work . . . I was on the Cross-Country and Track Teams, Forensics, Honor Society, you name it. Tomorrow I've got to go away to a youth leadership conference in Norfolk. Where has all this work gotten me? Well, it's gotten me up here, in front of about 1000 people. It's woken me up. So, I'll make you an offer you can't refuse. You want to wake up? Be different, break out the bungee cords, and vote for me, Mark Klingman, for SCA Vice President.

Hip Hot Styles

Fashion is a personality. A lot of times, you can tell how a person feels or what a person likes by the way he/she is dressed. This is their way of expressing themselves. The fashion blowout of the 60's, the color and the styles, are a simple case of history repeating itself. Originality is not only expressed in clothes but also in earrings, hair, shoes, makeup, and long eyelashes.

Pasty Mackey said that the season of the year she liked best is "Summer Time!! I like wearing short outfits (Bathing Suits). There are so many cute outfits to choose from during the summer. Stylin and Profiling."

Gerald Evans said that he liked wearing original styles rather than those worn by everyone. He said, "Original styles are always the best, because you can use your imagination and be creative, which receive the most attention."

Each person is unique and has their own sense of style. The more original the style, the more eye-catching the person.

Ms. King and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Parker enjoy the atmosphere of the Senior Dinner Dance, as they prepare their iced tea. It was held on March 21, 1992 at Jordan Point Country Club.

Mrs. Campfield shows the class the way she puts on her dirt on the Presquile Island Wildlife Refuge. Everyone put dirt on as an initiation of a true environmentalist.

"The talent show was very interesting because I was so amazed that my teachers would get in front of an audience and do things I would not even think of doing."

— Alycia
Graham

The dating game gets a little steamy as the three contestants (Bob Witherow, Jeff Fitch, and Todd Hamden) with sure positivity.

Mr. Hayes throws together some chemicals for a flaming applause.

Broader Talent

Faculty Show Off Their Talent

"The talent show was wild. Those teachers did some crazy things. Things students would not have thought of. Overall the show was very funny and different, and I enjoyed myself."

— Tathea
Harvin

Student talent shows are always fun, but Faculty, who knows? Can you ever imagine your teacher getting in front of an audience (of mostly students) to show off his/her talent? It sounds pretty exciting. Seeing this show, the students were able to see that the teachers were a little more creative than just singing and dancing. The teachers used their imaginations and spiced their acts up.

Drika Carson thought that it was good to have a separate teacher talent show. She said, "I think that it's more competition that way. Besides it gives the teacher time to prove what he/she is all about, and that he/she too can have fun."

LaShunda Young said, "The Faculty talent show was more enjoyable because there are a lot of different acts to perform besides singing and dancing."

Mark Blackmon enjoyed The Dating Game the most and said, "The answers the three contestants gave were good, but nothing compared to Mr. Hamden's quote."

Overall it was a successful show because the teachers performed again for the students on Fun Day due to popular demand.

— Torasha Blanding

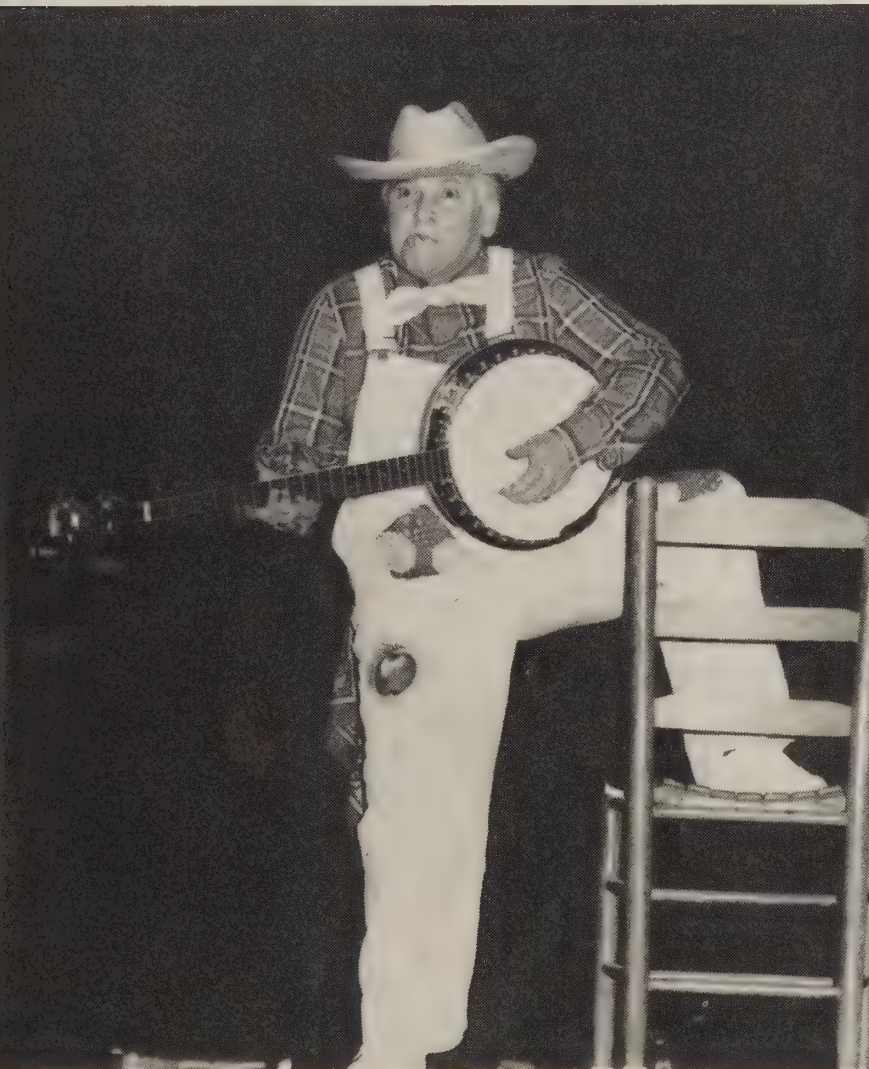

Mrs. Butterworth kicks a step as she soft shoes to "Tea for Two."

Take the little kid out and what do you have? Three guidance workers singing "My Bologna Has a First Name."

Mrs. Blevins and Nurse Carter show the audience a new style of dance.

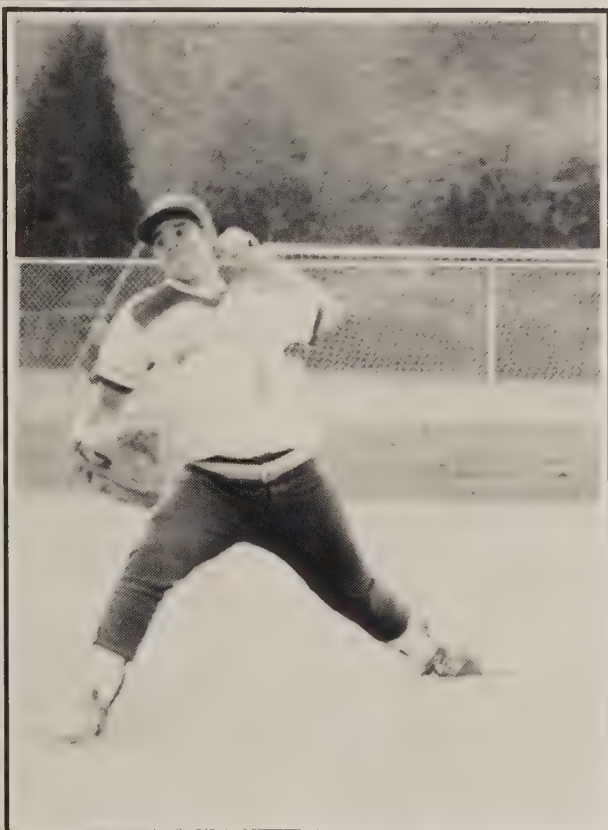

It's a bird, It's a plane. NO it's Alf. When is Mr. Skalsky ever going to stop?

Mrs. Whitlock (surprisingly) doodles the banjo.

TREASURES SPORTS

Chris Whitlock winds up and releases the ball that lands the J.V. baseball team their 11-6 record.

Football is a great sport. The contact and the thrill of victory are a wonderful feeling. You step out on the field like a bullfighter ready for the fight. You stand in your position, you are set. The quarterback roars like a tiger and yells hike. As you stand there, every muscle in your body tightens and tightens. Your cleats seem to dig into the ground as if someone was hammering them into the dirt. You see the player with the ball; he's running at you like an out of control bull. Your hair on the back of your neck stands straight up in a salute as if the president walked into the room. Your muscles get tighter. Millions of thoughts flow through your head like a smooth running stream. You decide to run straight at him. Your body stops all at once. You hear a sharp cry and a loud pop like two sticks are broken over a tree. It sounds like someone has broken a bone. You lie there hoping and praying that it is not your bone. You finally decide to get up. You stand successfully with no pain and get ready for the next play.

CHEERLEADERS

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleader defined: "One that calls organized cheering; as in at a football game." Being a cheerleader is hard work. The hardest is probably the tryouts. The tryouts were in May 1992. Fifty-six girls tried out. Of those, twenty-nine made it. The girls were taught two cheers and a chant of their choice to use for the judges. The captains of the squads called on Saturday night and announced the 92-93 cheerleaders. The next big step for the girls was camp. Fortunately, camp was here this year. "Camp was very interesting. I learned a lot of new things. It was very hard work, but it was worth it. Everyone was sore," said co-captain of the junior varsity squad Jennifer Tush. The instructors taught cheers, chants, pyramids, dances, attitudes, respect, and exercises. "It was a learning experience," Alycia Graham responded.

Practices are held Mondays and Wednesdays from 3:15 to 4:30 p.m. During practice the cheerleaders go over pyramids for the coming games and the cheers and chants that go with them. During their free time sixth period Joy Erb, Stefanie Riddle, and Angela Miller design pyramids.

Cheerleaders have a lot in common. They talk openly about it: "It has been fun, and I've made a lot of new friends," Sandy Muller stated. Frances Zayas feels, "It's really fun and school spirited. It's a lot of hard work and practice but overall, just a lot of fun." Alycia Graham thinks of it as "a good way to meet nice people and promote school spirit."

The worst moment for our cheerleaders? Well, Stephanie Spears added, "When I bent over in front of the crowd with a big hole in my pants and I didn't know it!" Sunny Holland softly spoke when she said, "When people criticize me, and they don't even know me." One asked that her identity be kept hidden, "I could not believe that all the people in school were saying that our squad has a lot of racial tension. It is not true, and it did hurt. But we stuck together through it all because that's the special kind of bond that we have." It just goes to show that not even the cheerleaders have it made. There are hard times no matter what you do.

The 1992 cross country team has an outstanding record this year with nine wins and only three losses. The team practices put the boys through vigorous activities to give them the winning edge. Team members could run up to five miles a day during the season.

Chris Jenkins has been with the team for three years. Chris is known as one of the most successful runners. He has won two races this year by fifty seconds and placed sixteenth in the district in his sophomore and junior years. James Sheehan has been on the team two years. He has been improving significantly on his techniques and last year received most improved runner. "I really like cross country because I love to run, but I really like getting to compete with other kids," James Sheehan said.

Mark Blackmon began running two years ago. So far he has placed in the top ten overall twice and placed seventh in both Maymont and Whitebank. Jason Vick, a first year runner, said, "This is my first season and I've really enjoyed working with all the guys and Coach Whipp. I plan to keep on running the rest of my high school years. It has been a very interesting experience." The team as a whole has been very successful and can be looked upon by future teams for inspiration.

FIELD HOCKEY

Many members of the field hockey team toss aside their personal life when enjoying their favorite sport. On the field the viewers lean toward the action, cheering their favorite player on for victory.

This year they had 9 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie. Jackie Sexton when asked how she felt about her teammates responded, "I've observed a lot of good teams through all the years of playing field hockey and one I noticed that compared to the other teams is we're good not only on the field but also off the field, with our friendships."

We asked two other players what they liked best about the game, Felicia Thomas said, "The thing I like most about the game is driving at the goalie during the game." Nikki Jack, one of the players who helped them to victory in the Central District Tournament, responded, "What I like most about the game is being able to take the ball away from another person and driving the ball down the field."

Working together and playing as a team will always pay off in the long-run.

TENNIS

Net 'N Love

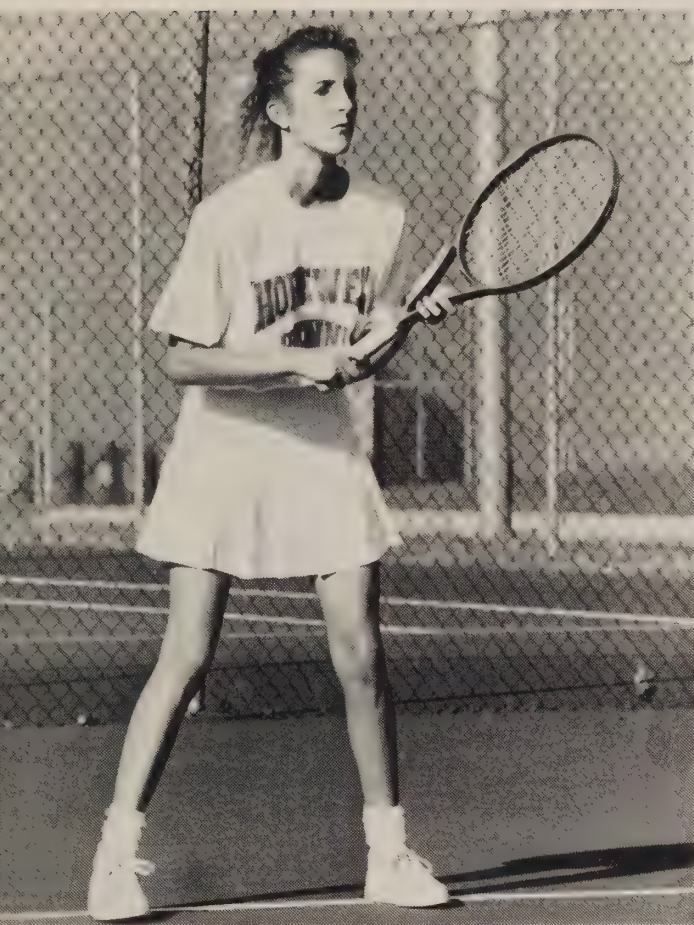

“Invigorating, exciting, and a lot of hard work,” were the words Lisa Fuzy used to describe the sport of tennis. Lisa is a member of the girls’ tennis team along with nine other girls. The team, coached by Donna Howlett, had a district record of five wins and seven losses. This year’s team consisted of five seniors, one junior, two sophomores, and two freshmen. Laura Kazebeer, a member of the team, replied, “It’s more than a team — it’s a group of close friends.” Tennis is a very competitive sport. Shawn Campbell, manager of the team, commented that managing the team was a real learning experience. Tennis is a mind game. While concentrating on the ball, tennis players must also consider the next possible move of their opponents. Competition is tough in singles and doubles matches. Tracy Bell was number one in singles this year with Julie Taylor not far behind in second place. The number one doubles team that advanced to the semifinals this year was Tracy Bell and Julie Taylor. And although they lost to Prince George, they still made fourth in the district. The second place doubles team this year was the team of Lisa Fuzy and Megan Foxworth. As a whole, the girl’s tennis team did a great job of representing Hopewell High School.

GOLF

PARRING on the GREEN

"The game of golf is a complicated sport," said Lucas Indelicato. Golf has not been one of Hopewell High School's stronger sports until recently. Robbie Hare, a three year golfer, remembers when the team was 0-14 and said, "I survived the rough times of a losing season but always looked toward the future. Also I was encouraged to continue because of the talented young golfers that would be on the team my junior and senior year." The talented young people turned out to be Chris Whitlock, Matt Hunt, Lee Mahaney, and Steve Kapalchick. These future stars, plus the returning upperclass, gave the Hopewell Golf team an overall record of 7-7 and a district record of 5-7. Thus, the team qualified six of nine golfers to the District Tournament. They were Matt Hunt, Robbie Hare, Steve Kapalchick, Lee Mahaney, Chris Whitlock, and Heath Dye. The team as a whole placed seventh in the tournament. At the District Tournament Chris Whitlock advanced to the Central Region Tournament. Overall, the team improved as exemplified by their accomplishments. The future looks bright for golf.

The Hopewell High School Wrestling Team has had a very successful season. They had a record of 6 and 0 in the district and an overall record of 11 and 5 with all of their matches combined. The wrestling team showed an extreme amount of determination and dedication throughout the season. These young men had two very important individuals behind them, pushing them to do their best, who were Coach Ray Ward and Coach Clay Bennett. There was a lot of talent on the wrestling team this past season, and they proved this by taking first place in the Central District Tournament held February 13, 1993. Many of the Blue Devil wrestlers went on to compete in the Regional Tournament. Among the wrestlers to advance to regionals were: Aaron Burnley who placed second, Jose Cruz who placed first, Ivan Cruz who also placed first, Chris Speight who placed third, Tony Johnson who placed first, Lafayette Thomas who placed third, Glenn Hayes who placed first, Pete Pettry who placed first, and Gary Herrington who placed second in their weight divisions at the Central District Tournament. Hopewell High School had a strong powered and winning wrestling team and since many of the team will be back next year you may see another season like the 1993 season.

BACKTODAY SHOOTING HOOPS DAILYDALL

Basketball is a sport that requires strength, agility, and a good aim. The J.V. and Varsity Lady Blue Devils have what it takes to take it to the hoops. Both teams did well this year. The J.V. record was 4 wins and 9 losses. The Varsity record was 5 wins and 9 losses. Lucy Gholson, of the Varsity team felt, "We could've done better, but it's always that 4th quarter." Danielle Bridgeforth, also a Varsity player, stated, "Even though our record is not the best, we all became good friends not just teammates, and the most important thing is that we had fun." The J.V. team plans to go on to the Central District. Tanisha Grammer was named to the All Tournament Team during the Meadowbrook tournament. Felicia Thomas was named a Medicine Shoppe player of the week in February. Both teams had good and bad moments throughout the year, while learning the game and having fun.

BASKETBALL

Separating The Boys From The Men

BASKETBALL

In the sport of basketball there is excitement, suspense, and competition. To our Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman boys' basketball teams the competition is tough but the suspense of the game and the excitement of winning make up for all the hard work.

This year our boys' basketball teams captured the spirit of the students and each week swept them away to another victory. The Varsity team, coached by Bill Littlepage, saw its share of victory this year. When coach Broner was asked about the Varsity season he responded, "On paper, the boys' basketball team was not given much of a chance to ascend to the heights they reached this year. But it is a tribute to Coach Littlepage and the boys' in blue, who made clear the fact that the game is not played on paper but on the hardware."

The Varsity Blue Devils not only had two record breakers this year, but continued to the Central District Tournament and on to the State Tournament! They were also named the VHSL Central Region Runners-up and were one of the State AAA Tournament's Elite Eight. All time leading scorer, James Phelham, broke an astounding number of records this year. Named player of the year, James Phelham broke the record for total number of career points and the records for most freethrows in a game, season, and career. Senior Travis Williams broke the record for most three-pointers in a game, and coach Bill Littlepage was named Central District Coach of the Year. When player Seth Dye was asked what the coach was really like he said, "Coach Littlepage is more than just a coach. He is a friend. He would help us with anything, not only basketball. He is a person who cares about his job, his team and Hopewell as a whole." These were not the only three champions of the Varsity team. Recognition belongs to all the players for playing as a team, for the team. Mark Klingman commented about the team's efforts by saying, "It was really something to watch (our team) play in the State Tournament with determination and without hair." Action was a big part of all the games — there was so much going on at one time that it would fill the air with the crowd's cheering almost immediately.

The J.V. team, coached by Marshall Parker, has shown a tremendous effort to establish a position at the top. When asked about the team, J.V. teammate Troy Miles replied, "The whole team works together. One person can't carry the team to the District Championships. And our team works together to get it done." Team work is a great part of any team, as it was this year in the freshman team. Coached by Reggie Simon, the team practiced hard to receive the benefits that can come from good teamwork. For upcoming freshmen, Coach Simon had a few words of advice, "Play constantly, work on your weaknesses as opposed to your strengths." This not only holds true for basketball, but everything, everyday.

The members of the 1992 Boys' and Girls' track teams had a season filled with ups and downs as most teams do. Their track record was 0-7. They also finished a disappointing last place in the District. Although their record was not as good as they had anticipated it to be, they remained confident and tried to do their best. According to Michelle Bennette, "Running track is a lot of work, but it is also fun. You have to be willing to work hard and absolutely love running everyday to be successful."

On the flip side, the boys' team finished their season with a 5-2 track record, and they tied for second place in the District against Meadowbrook. The boys' team proved themselves this season, and Coach Fitch was very pleased. One member of the team, Eric Ware, commented on how he felt about the tie for second place in the District, "I felt a little upset because we could have won the second place slot, the final decision came to one race."

Both the boys' and girls' track teams have shown that it is not all sports. When asked why he wanted to be on the track team, Matt Jackson replied, "The team not only runs and competes, but being on the team teaches you self-discipline. I have come to find that the bond between all the teammates is one that does not come along everyday." We look forward to hearing about the further achievements from these young men and women in the future.

Abbott — one-half of the two part comedy team Abbott and Costello said, "Who's on first, what's on second, and I don't know on third." Well, I do not know about Abbott's team, but our team was all three and more. In addition we had powerful pitchers, sensational shortstops, fabulous fielders, killer catchers, and outrageous coaches. Both teams worked hard all year for a rewarding season. The J.V. team ended with 11 wins and six losses, and the varsity team had seven wins and 10 losses. This year the varsity had two freshmen on their team. They were Travis Powroznik and Tigger Johnson. According to Travis, "Being on varsity this year was a lot of fun. It was a very good experience for me. I enjoyed myself." Both teams had dangerous offense and hard defense. This could be contributed to the coaching skills of Ricky Saunders, Bobby Pershing, John Denzler, and Woody Whitlock. Coach Denzler says that "hustle and determination are the key to winning," and you can believe that the Blue Devils hustled this season. Even though you may never figure out who is on first we will always know that both teams gave it their all to end the season successfully.

Kelly Kirksey and Lisa Holt coached the J.V. team and Jane Carlson coached the Varsity team. Before each game the team warmed up by doing jumping jacks, leg and arm circles, throwing the ball, hitting the ball, and running around the field. The J.V. team usually did their warm-ups in Spanish. After their warm-ups were done, the team gathered in a circle for the Lord's Prayer. All of this hard work paid off for the J.V. girls with a 5-9 season.

The Varsity team had a one and eighteen record. This may not have been their season, but no matter what the score the girls hung in there and gave it their best shot. There is a lot of teamwork involved in softball and the Blue Devil Softball team displayed plenty of teamwork. When junior Missy Whitt was asked, "How does it feel to have a whole team depend on you?" she responded, "Well sometimes it can be a lot of pressure on you but most of the time it really felt good to know where you were wanted or needed. I could have done better on the speed of my pitching. I love to pitch and I'm definitely ready for another year. I hope it will be a good one!" This year the team had three seniors leaving. We would like to say good-bye and good luck in all you do to Amy Powroznick, Vickie Baum, and Gloria Ramos.

TENNIS

Netting The Score

The 1992 Boys Tennis Team was a well-mannered group of young men. Their stride and determination kept them practicing more and more. The team record was 0-14. Even though the team never won a match, Coach Frank Whipp stated, "The guys had a great deal of leadership and sportsmanship, but we never made a team win. We can say that we got out there and practiced hard and played the hardest." The personal matches improved substantially. They were slight to make a win for the team as a whole. Joey Howington, senior member of the team, was named Most Valuable Player to the team. He taught the newcomers all he knew to improve their game and help make a win for the team. He was an excellent tennis player and knew a great deal about the game. Mr. Whipp was proud of his leadership towards the team and was grateful for his excellence in the game. The new bright star for 1992, Robbie Hare, was named Rookie of the Year. He explained, "My personal game improved greatly, but I need to work more and practice harder to make a team win overall. I was more satisfied with my performance, but I will do better next year, and I wish us all luck." The team exemplified great sportsmanship to other players and other teams. MVP Joey Howington leaves his senior year and passes on a good word of advice for the next members to come, "Keep practicing hard and good luck next year. Never let them get you down and always keep high spirits whether you win or lose." The team still did a great job with every match and won well in spirit. Good luck to all and keep up the good work.

Kicking It To The Goal

The Soccer team of 1992 was named the most talented team of all past years. A combination of some new players and others that had been playing during the past seasons, made Coach Brian O'Neill say that this year's team was the most talented of all years.

Before the district games, the Varsity Soccer team was doing a good job, but they had a couple of problems with players that probably affected the team in their preparation for the district games and tournaments. Even with all of these problems, they made it to the district tournaments with a lot of hard work. They also made third place in the Meadowbrook Tournament.

When the District Tournament started, the Varsity team was one of the many to be picked to go on to the originals, but the team record was not very good. After many hard games, Hopewell went to a game against Colonial Heights and won the victory. Next, they played Prince George and had a chance to go to the regionals, if they could beat Prince George. All of the players concentrated on this game. At Manchester Soccer Field, the Prince George team was warming up when Hopewell arrived at the "battle place." They looked at each other like they were going to a war.

The game started. The Hopewell team became discouraged after Prince George scored the first goal during the first half. However, between the first and second half, Coach Brian O'Neill talked to the team and said that they could win the game easily. The Hopewell players decided to put their best effort forward and win the game. Before they went on the field to start the second half, all of the players gathered together and as natural instinct began yelling, "WE WANT IT, WE WANT IT . . ."

The game restarted, but Hopewell could not score a goal, and with five minutes left in the game, Prince George scored their goal and Hopewell gave up. The game finished 3 to 0, and Hopewell's dream of going to the originals was over.

The season finished for Hopewell after this game. The Hopewell team lost about four players — Seniors who would be missed by those continuing into the next season.

— Heather Vipperman and Anderson Gracias

"Soccer is a sport that's been played here at Hopewell High School for many years, and it becomes more popular each year," said Robbie Gay.

Julie Taylor gets ready to send the ball flying down the field to an awaiting teammate.

Tabatha Dobbins determinedly dribbles the ball down the field to prepare to take a shot at the goal.

With superhuman strength, Denise Anderson throws the ball into play.

Tracy Bell takes the ball away from an L. C. Byrd player.

"It was a fun, exciting, and competitive year. You met a lot of new people and learned how to cooperate with each other." — Sharon Anderson

A Kickin' Sport

Last year was the first year that Hopewell had a girls' soccer team. Before then, if any girl wanted to play soccer, she would have to be on the boys' JV or Varsity team. But finally they got one, and it was so popular that about twenty-eight girls tried out for the twenty positions. The girls that made the team and their coach Mr. Clay

Bennett were definitely the best. At the end of the season forward Julie Taylor was named to the All-Central District team. Shiela Stallings and Christie Cloninger made the second team. Most of the girls thought they did well for a first team, but they need to work harder. "Considering we really didn't drill as hard as I thought we would, our team did as well for a first year team," said Amanda Davis. Rebecca Slagle added, "I feel that the team did better than anyone expected us to do. By working very hard and being very enthusiastic about our games we were able to make it to the Central District Tournament and end up fourth place in the district." The team ended their first year winning six of their eleven games and ending up in fourth place for the year.

Going for the gold

An American Classic

This year is ending and the yearbook staff has worked hard to produce this yearbook. We feel that it is one of the best Hopewell has ever seen, and we hope that it recaptures many of the "timeless treasures" that this school has brought. The school year brought many changes this year such as new teachers, new classes, and new challenges.

Remember the feelings of winning, of joy; and of triumph when our girls' field hockey team won the district championship. The sadness of defeat by Meadowbrook homecoming night, and the anticipation of the Miss Hopewell Pageant as we waited for the winners to be announced. What about that proud feeling as we won game after game in boys' basketball and wrestling, the carefree feeling at prom, and competition during the science fair?

These are only a few of the events that shaped our year and we have recaptured these "timeless treasures" for all times. We hope you enjoy the 1992-1993 edition of Kaleidoscope as one of your timeless treasures.

David Taylor is full of air playing at a pep rally.

What will you remember the most when you look back at 1992-1993?

"My graduation day."

— Erin Mooring

"I'll remember the sports, the clubs, and the tortures of being a freshman."

— Courtney Jack

"I'll remember all of my teachers who have helped me get to where I am."

— Howard Sexton

"The thing I will remember most will be friends, sports, and girlfriends."

— Ryan Hoover

What world event will you remember about 1992-1993?

"The Elvis Presley stamp."

— Diane Shippee

"The inauguration of President Bill Clinton."

— Ernest Boone

"Operation Restore Hope."

— Aisha Stamper

"Super Bowl 27 — Bills 17 vs. Cowboys 52."

— Daryl Sample

Some Things Never Change

Colophon

Sports, academics, organizations, and events in student life are a long held tradition at our school. In recognition of the twenty-fifth year of Hopewell High School in this building, we tried to capture our timeless treasures — past, present, and future.

The staff could not have accomplished this alone. We wish to thank Mrs. Pope and Mr. Jones for letting us use their computers, and Mrs. Hatfield for allowing us to use her typewriters and computers. In addition, thanks go to Mrs. Traina and Mrs. Walker for letting us use the phone, copier, and supplies, as well as to Mr. Bailey for making copies for us. We would also like to thank Mrs. Curd and Mrs. Carlson, who gave us pictures, and Mrs. Turner, who ran off the school roster. We also thank our Taylor representative Dan DeFalco for his invaluable help. Lastly, we would like to thank Mr. Littlepage, coaches, and sponsors for their valuable help in providing information, scores, and names.

The 1993 Kaleidoscope volume 68 was printed by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas. All body copy is 10 point Geneva, and all captions are 8 point Geneva. Headlines are 36 point or 30 point and subheadlines are 24 point. Typestyles for headlines are subheadlines differ in each section: student life, Windsor; people, Athena; seniors, Souvenir; academic, Freehand Script; and sports, Adroit Extra Bold. The book of 144 pages with 12 pages of color sold for $27 and had a press run of 430 copies.

Dr. Grossmann,
I am finally graduating and will start college Aug. 93.
I am sorry about your ad
but I did not have any proofing authority. I would like to take this time to thank-you for the beautiful straight teeth that make me happy to smile. Hope to see you soon. Best wishes to you
